Irwin "Hoogy" Hoogheem and Carol pose for a photo on a field trip. Hoogy is the Chapter-selected AOK Trustee representing the Northern Flint Hills Audubon Society.

Trustees Bob McElroy, Bill Browning and Honorary Trustee Glenn D. Chambers on a visit to the Mt. Mitchell sanctuary. Glenn is a renowned photographer and prairie enthusiast from Columbia, Missouri. Glenn made the photograph of the American Avocet featured on the cover.

While a KSU student, Neal Rasmussen worked as AOK's part-time administrative assistance for several years. In July 2013 Neal and Sydney Case were married, and Neal is now in law school at the University of Minnesota.

Trustee Mary Powell with her husband Craig Yorke and their son Chris near the "summit" of Mt. Mitchell. Chris designed and built the TreeTop Treehouse at the Kansas Children's Discovery Center in Topeka. Mary grew up on a Sioux reservation in South Dakota, which anchored her love of things natural, wild and free.

Trustee Kelley Hurst shows Danny Kamphas and his grandchildren, Taylor and Avery, the reestablished prairie dog colony at the Hutton Niobrara Ranch Wildlife Sanctuary.
